

Health Professionals Needed H1N1 Flu Shot Clinics

Clinics start this Fall

To help protect Manitobans from H1N1 flu, immunization clinics are being organized across the province. The clinics will begin when the vaccine is available.

Doctors, nurses, nurse practitioners

Currently certified or registered health care professionals, as well as those who are retired, are needed to work at these clinics. People who have experience working in immunization clinics are required to provide shots, greet visitors or assist with registration.
